

LET'S GET TO KNOW MARIPOSA BAKERY

I have loved to bake since I was very young. I got into it when my grandma allowed me to follow the recipes that were in my great-grandmother's recipe box. The process is very

I therapeutic to me and it fills me with such a strong sense of joy and accomplishment. I am an artist whose talents are endless but out of all of my interests, baking is the one thing I've been passionate about and have stuck with the longest. I truly believe that it's my purpose and calling. I also love it because I've learned that nothing brings people together and fills them with genuine happiness like good food.
